Interactive pond - Pont de Vaux

July 16th, 2010

The Tourist, Water and Nature Home opens its doors in Pont de Vaux, east France. On this occasion, the studio designed and built an interactive floor where visitors can interact with wild fish. The models of common fishes of the river Saône were conceived for the museum. A fun scenario allows children to capture the fishes with their feet in order to hear an audio commentary about each species.

Imaginez Maintenant - UrbanXGame

July 4th, 2010

From the 1st to the 4th of July, the national event "Imaginez Maintenant" took place in nine cities in France. It focused on exhibiting young artists' creations, selected to showcase their works in historical site, industrial or natural heritages of their city.

In Bordeaux, the abandoned barrack Niel was chosen to host the whole event. Within this context, students of the school of architecture and landscape (ensapBx) under the direction of Claire Petetin proposed the multi-users game "UrbanXGame" to which we contributed.

Jacada Travel V2

June 28th, 2010

www.jacadatravel.com

Jacada Travel, a British travel agency specialized in organizing trips to South America commissioned us to build the first version of its website two years ago.

The team made of 2Roqs and designer Moon Palace gathered again around founder Alex Malcolm to offer a whole new face for the site.

Refined and relevant, this new concept highlights not only the quality of the stunning photographs but also the high standards of the services offered by the agency.

Guaranteed Flash-free, the website is even compatible with your iphone or your ipad!

Gravity award

June 26th, 2010

Gravity won the New Technological Art Award Foundation Liedts-Meesen award of the Biennale of Contemporary Art Update 3 to Gent in Belgium. This digital installation, selected among 264 participants from 45 different countries, was awarded a first price by both an international jury of professionals and the public. Gravity will be exhibited in september for the biennale "Figures de l'interactivité" in Poitiers.
